OLEA EXPANDS AFRICAN FOOTPRINT WITH MARSH BOTSWANA ACQUISITION

26 subsidiaries and 13 partners in Africa

OLEA, a Pan-African insurance broker, is proud to announce the successful acquisition of Marsh Botswana, now officially operating as OLEA Botswana. This milestone marks the close of a five-year collaborative journey and represents a bold step forward in OLEA's continental expansion. As a subsidiary of OLEA Insurance Solutions Africa, OLEA Botswana is positioned to serve clients with deeper local expertise, broader regional capabilities, and the same dedicated service they have always trusted.

The transaction strengthens OLEA's regional presence and reinforces its commitment to delivering personalised, high-quality risk management and insurance solutions tailored to Africa's evolving business landscape.

"We're delighted to officially welcome the team from Marsh Botswana into the OLEA network," said Olivier Canuel, CEO of OLEA Group. "This milestone enables us to deepen our relationships with clients in a key market and expand the range of support and services we offer across East and Southern Africa."

Vincent de Charnacé, CEO of OLEA East & Southern Africa, added: "Our investment in local talent and resources reflects our promise to ensure continuity, responsiveness, and the same level of excellence clients rely on. This integration is about growing with intention and expanding our capabilities while staying close to the markets we serve."

OLEA's footprint now spans 26 African countries, supporting individuals, businesses, and international investors with specialised expertise in insurance brokerage, risk placement, and reinsurance partnerships.

About OLEA: OLEA is a Pan African insurance broker with an extensive footprint (26 territories) on the African continent - operating in North, West, Central, East and Southern Africa. Their clients include individuals, businesses and specialty industries in the field of reinsurance and placement, companies investing in Africa and international brokers without a presence on the African continent.
